
Acknowledgments

Major Local Tobacco Control Ordinances in the United States was developed through the Smoking and Tobacco Control Program (STCP), Donald R. Shopland, Coordinator, National Cancer Institute, Bethesda, Maryland. The editor was Mark Pertschuk, J.D., Co-Director, Americans for Nonsmokers' Rights (ANR), Berkeley, California.

Special recognition is due Leonard Casey, Systems Manager, Americans for Nonsmokers' Rights, for creating and maintaining the data base of local tobacco control ordinances on which this volume is based.

The editor acknowledges the contributions of the following staff members of Americans for Nonsmokers' Rights, who provided expertise on a wide range of tobacco issues as well as technical and editorial assistance in the preparation of this monograph:

Patricia Brazil, Manager, Educational Programs

Julia Carol, Co-Director

Leonard Casey, Systems Manager

Kevin Goebel, Manager, Legislative Programs

Greg Heiman, Research Assistant

Robin Hobart, M.P.H., M.P.P., Policy Analyst

Patricia Kates, Research Assistant.

The staff of the NCI Smoking and Tobacco Control Program gratefully acknowledges the following individuals, whose contributions made this monograph possible:

Peter H. Fisher

Coalition on Smoking OR Health
Washington, D.C.

Jane Moore

Association of State and Territorial Health Officials
Washington, D.C.

Joel M. Moskowitz, Ph.D.

Western Consortium for Public Health
Berkeley, California

Julie Williamson, M.P.H.

California Tobacco Control Resource Partnership
Western Consortium for Public Health
Berkeley, California.

Special thanks to the Coalition on Smoking OR Health, Washington, D.C., for its contributions both to this monograph and in tracking State and local tobacco policy developments. The Coalition is composed of the American Cancer Society, American Heart Association, and American Lung Association.

The editor acknowledges the contributions of the following staff members of R.O.W. Sciences, Inc., Rockville, Maryland, who provided technical and editorial assistance in the preparation of this monograph:

Richard H. Amacher, Project Manager (STCP Monographs)

Barbara Shine, Copy Editor

Keith Stanger, Graphics Specialist

Jacqueline Tressler, Project Manager (STCP Support Services)

Ronald Wolf, Data Analyst.